ANALYSIS

PROBLEM

Strong local presence but limited digital expansion, and younger and male audience engagement.

MARKET

Swedish second-hand retail is growing 10%+ annually, driven by increasing demand for sustainable shopping. As digital retail evolves, ReTuna’s lack of integration limits its competitiveness. Expanding into virtual showrooms, gamification, and online resale in the future can enhance engagement and market position.

CONSUMER

Gen Z and Millennials value slow fashion, ethical retail, and digital engagement, while families prioritise affordable, sustainable secondhand options. ReTuna struggles to engage younger and male shoppers. Influencer collaborations and gamified social media can help expand its reach.

BRAND

ReTuna should strengthen brand appeal and remain competitive in Sweden’s growing secondhand market through digital retail expansion, influencer partnerships, and interactive consumer engagement strategies.

CAMPAIGN CONCEPT

Goal: Leverage influencers and retailer collaborations to celebrate ReTuna's anniversary, promote sustainability, and expand appeal to young and male consumers.

Concept: Join the movement. Share your sustainability story. Earn rewards for a greener future.

Campaign period: 2 months (April to May, leading up to the 10th anniversary in May).
